speed of light

morley$Speed
What is one of the best ways to explore the variation in your data?